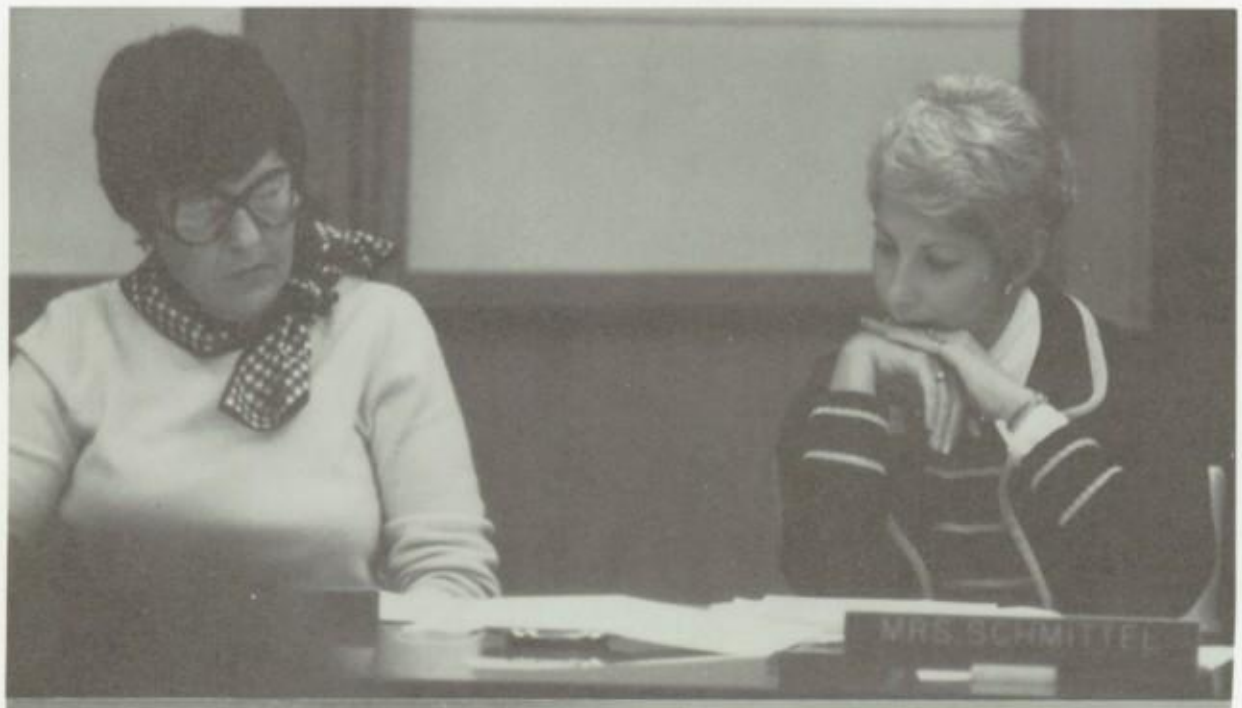
maintaining high quality education at a.h.s.



Don't they look bored?

One of the largest problems facing the Board of Education this year was maintaining a quality of educational program in view of the escalating costs and limited financial means. Another concern involved balancing enrollments in our schools.

The board was not in the process of implementing any major new programs this year. There were refinements on a continuing basis in many existing programs.

The Board of Education consisted of seven members. The only new member was Mr. Wesley Kar, who replaced Dr. John Solverson after his term expired. Dr. Solverson, having served eight years, chose not to seek reelection. This year has been one that we will remember for years to come thanks to their hard work.

From L. to R: Mrs. Barnes, Mr. Mallon, Mr. Kevern, Mrs. Monks, Mrs. Schmittel, Mr. Kar, Dr. Crandell, Mr. Hull

new faces, bring changing times

There have been many changes in the administration this year. For one, we have added two new assistant principals, Mr. Keith Griffin and Dr. Camille Carlson. In addition to the new staff members there has been a revised attendance step and detention policy issued to the school this year. Mr. Cleaveland, in his first full year as our new principal, found the new attendance policy a challenge. The new system seemed to have worked smoothly.

Adams had also lost a very important member of its staff, Mr. Piasecki, who left to work at West Bloomfield High School. We will remember him for many years to come. Best Wishes to our new administration.

what a job . . .

"Hi there!"

Would you buy insurance from this man?

counselors counsel council

The strength of the Guidance and Counseling Department at Adams High lied in the experience and background of the personnel. Mrs. White, Mrs. Borck, and Mrs. Weinzierl were well-prepared and friendly receptionists. There was excellent background experience on the part of all four counselors. Mrs. Ryan, Mr. Parks, Mrs. Bogard, and Mr. Kemp were usually available to all students who needed help with schedules and other problems. We could not begin to tell all the areas they were involved in. They helped set the students on the upward course for the future. Obviously, the student body at Adams High could not do without these fine, hard working receptionists and counselors. After all, where would we have been without them?

"Oh c'mon, I know I have to fill out more forms than you have to fill out."

look what's cookin'

Preparing meals, cleaning classrooms, stacking chairs and washing dishes were just a few of the many duties of Adams efficient maintenance staff. Even before the official school day begins, and long after it ends, the cooks and custodians could be seen busily at work. The cooks put much thought and hard work into planning and preparing wholesome and nutritious meals. The custodians saw to it that the entire school is "spic" and "span" at the beginning of each school day. It was also their responsibility to keep all of the utilities and sanitary facilities in good working order. Without their help heaven only knows where we would have been. Thank you for a well done job.

women in main office tackle problems

The main office continued to be an important aspect to the smooth operation of Adams. Much work was accomplished by the three women who worked in the main office. Mrs. Gowanlock, who served as Mr. Griffin's secretary, also took charge of information regarding the buses and driver's ed. Mrs. Moore handled the switchboard, while Ms. Debolt replaced Mrs. Garcia as Mr. Cleaveland's secretary.

Once again, the busy attendance office was run by Mrs. Borck. Along with some student assistants, she kept the attendance records of Adam's students in order. Her hard work kept the attendance office running smoothly. And she was the person who published the weekly detention lists.

quiet, please

Getting things in order.

One of the quietest places in this school was the Library. It was run by Mrs. Johnston and Mrs. Green.

These two ladies worked hard at keeping the thousands of books in order for us, along with pamphlets, magazines, and newspapers. To make things somewhat easier for them they have invented a new filing system. This made finding things quicker and easier.

At the back of the library was the Audio Visual room. Once again Mrs. Sharp was in charge of the A.V. Near the end of last year new equipment such as record players, screens, carts, and projectors were bought.

Adams was proud to have such a fine library and A.V. in its building.

The English Department at Adams had much more to offer its students than just English Grammar. In courses such as Shakespeare, Drama, and Poetry, students learned to further their education in these specific areas.

This year a new addition to the English Department was the Project Advance course. This class is comparable to the freshman English class at Syracuse University. It was worth 6 credits at universities and colleges nationwide, and was taught by Mrs. Mallon.

Besides the new class at Adams, there were two new English teachers this year. They were Mrs. O'Connor, the energetic sophomore sponsor, and Mr. Freeman, the coach of the Debate Team and the Literary Club sponsor.

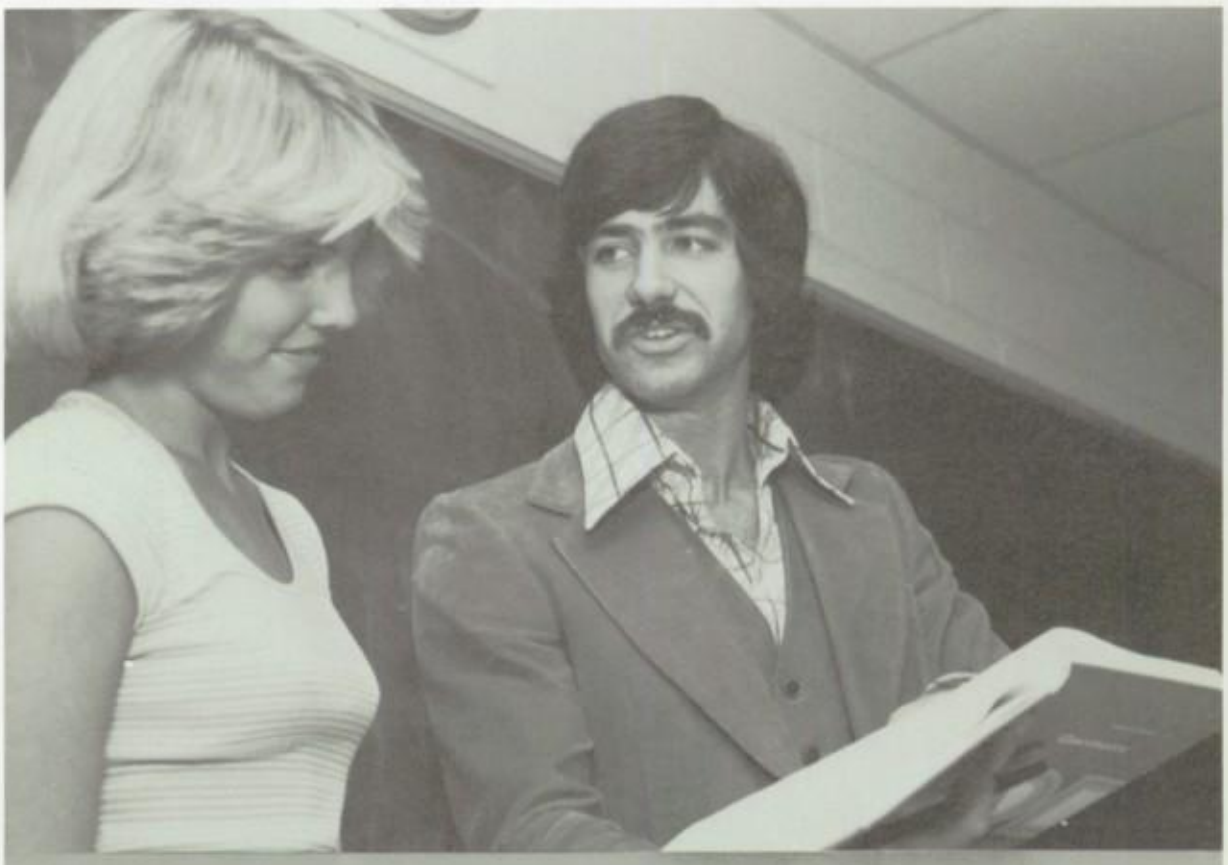
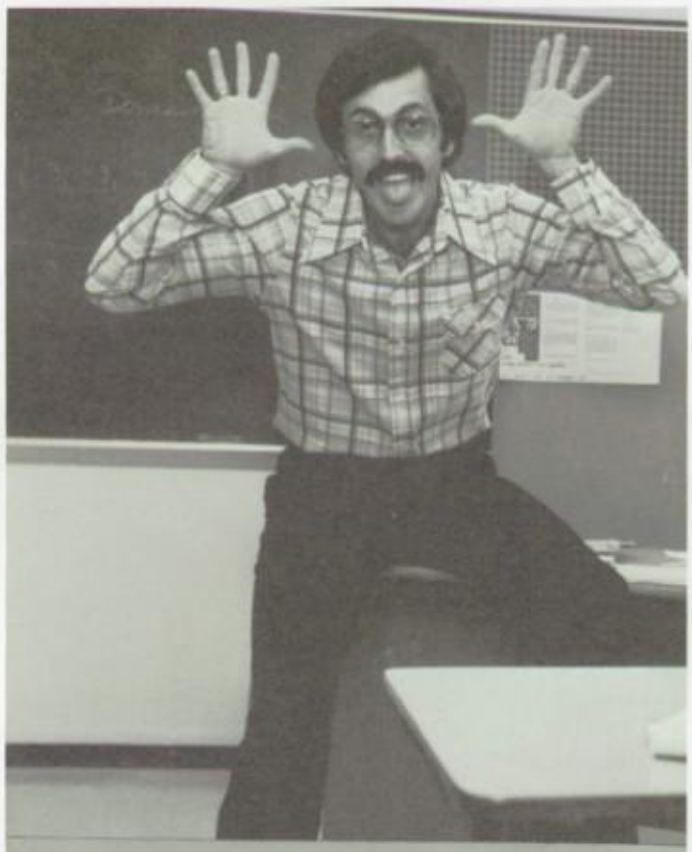
The Math Department had one new thing happen this year, a new teacher joined the staff. Mrs. Delauney came from Van Hoosen Junior High and took Mrs. Scafuri's place on the Adams Math staff.

There were also seven other teachers that made up the Math Department- Mr. Cicciarelli, Mr. Guerrieri, Mrs. Krull, Mr. Lentz, Mr. Pasbjerg, the head of the department, Mr. Thompson, and Mr. Treat. There were math classes every hour of the day for any kind of math student, whether you were a math whiz or not. The math classes ranged from Human Math to Calculus and from computer to Business Math and Problem Solving.

"But it's intuitively obvious!"



Mr. Treat tries to keep his mind on the work.



Mr. C's more serious side.

"Let's do that one again!"

Foreign Language was a real challange for the kids at Adams High School. They had four different languages to choose from: Spanish, French, German, and Russian.

The department here improved in the last three years. The students said it was because of the great teaching staff, which was Mrs. Nash, Mrs. Snow, Mrs. Lintz, and Mr. Pazevic. They have helped the students a great deal.

The students not only learned to speak a different language but also learned the culture of the countries. They also kept themselves busy by dancing, singing, playing soccer, and cooking. The students advised everyone to join in the enthusiasm that the Foreign language students had this year in their classes.

past, present, and future

The Social Science Department at Adams offered something for everyone. The purpose of social studies was to provide students with knowledge of past and present civilizations and their role in maintaining and developing civilization.

There was one new teacher in the Department this year, Mr. Bailo who taught government.

A new class, American History 3, was required for Juniors. It was designed to provide more information about our history after WW2. The Social Studies credit requirement for graduation was raised.

The Seniors again held their annual Convention to see first hand how the electoral process works.

The Department was in the process of evaluating its entire program.

Why didn't I think of that?

Note notable Ms. Hewitt noting her notes.

scientists at work

Our mad scientists were back at work again this year in the Natural Science Department. With Mr. White and Mr. Dunn, the chemistry students made all precise calculations in centimeters and grams.

There was a little soil and water analyzing which swung us into a new course called, "Conservation Study." Mr. Glenn was right into the soil of the matter with the students.

Certainly there were many more courses for those interested in science including Biology, one of our required subjects. Two other popular courses were Pathology and Astromony, which were taught by Mr. Mikula.

Of course we all knew when Mrs. Talley's class was busy at work; there was a distinct odor lingering in the halls.

With all these scientists at work how could we not have the best Natural Science Department here at Adams.

business is booming

Surviving in the business world takes great knowledge of its problems. More students took business classes than ever before. The reasons varied- some wished to get on the co-op program, while others took the classes to enrich their understanding of the business world.

The Business Department prepared students for jobs, upon graduation. New courses this year included speedwriting and refresher typing.

The speedwriting course enabled students to take notes faster, while refresher typing was mainly a review.

The new equipment used by the Business Department included a correcting selective typewriter, and calculators used in accounting.

If you were looking for an interesting field to get into, it was business. With Mrs. Schmitz, Mrs. Swoyer, Mr. Leonard and Mrs. Harris, we had a department that meant business.

low on supplies, high on talent

There were many new changes in the Art Department.

The main change was the addition of Mrs. Cecile Jensen, who took the place of Mrs. Nelson. Mrs. Jensen came to Adams from Eaton Rapids, where she taught for five years.

Another change was the re-instatement of Art History, taught by Mrs. Montgomery, and the addition of Color Photography, taught by Mrs. Jensen.

New changes were also incorporated into the art curriculum. Basic Art was made a prerequisite for all other art classes. The teachers also tried stressing art appreciation more than in the previous years.

The art teachers, as well as the students had to work with fewer materials this year. The class that really was in need was the Photography class.

Other popular classes taught by Mr. Spitzer are Jewelry, and Commercial Art.

When drills drilled and hammers hammered you could be sure you were in one of the various Industrial Arts classes. The Industrial Arts Department had another successful year as was expected. At the controls were Mr. Lawrence, Mr. Schmidt, Mr. Orchard and Mr. Rosenthal. Under the watchful eyes of these teachers, students learned to develop an insight and understanding of industry in our society, as well as machine safety, and craftsmanship.

In the Spring, the Architectural Drafting class visited Toronto to study architectural contrast in the city.

An interesting and valuable Department, Industrial Arts will thrive at Adams for years to come.

The Home Ec Department continued to tantalize our sense of smell with delicious aromas of such things as breads and pastries from this year's Bake Shoppe. Other popular Home Ec courses offered this year included Needlework, Interior Design and Exploring Foods. Child Development expanded to a one semester two hour block and Survival expanded to a full semester.

Highland House was a bigger success this year than ever. New items were added to the restaurant that made it a very nice looking place to have lunch. Mrs. Fisk was extremely impressed with the efficiency of its student staff. Both Mrs. Fisk and Mrs. Long aimed to help the students meet the practical demands in their everyday lives.

mr. irish, we salute you!

The Adams High School Vocal Music Department was definitely something for the student body, staff, and parents to be proud of. Among the choirs activities this year were the annual Christmas concert, where the Messiah was expertly performed by our concert choir. Other activities include the Spring Concert, and of course our annual musical which was enjoyed by all those who attended the show.

As a special addition of the vocal music department, and also an addition to the city of Rochester, this year marked the twenty-fifth year of teaching for our fearless and faithful director, Mr. Frank Irish. His accomplishments in Rochester are closer to a million than one, and he had twenty-five years of alumni to prove it!

There is more to Adams High than our great choir, but not much that is as rewarding, fulfilling, or as entertaining for all those who listen!

viva la music

The students in the Music Department at Adams were given an opportunity to participate in a group music activity and to develop a technique on an instrument. This year, because of their diligent practice in, and out of class they performed many good concerts. These included Bantasia (in which all three bands plus the Marching Band played well), the Winter Concert and the Spring Concert.

Also the Symphony band and the Wind Ensemble combined at the end of the year to form the Graduation Band, which added to the commencement.

In addition to the concert bands, directed by Mr. Simmons, there were two classes taught by Mr. Goldsworthy. The new expanded Music Appreciation Course helped students to listen to music with a keen sense for musical quality. The Jazz Band had many talented students this year and performed with a good solid sound.

The Physical Education Department had many new changes this year. Two new teachers joined the staff- Mr. Bailo and Mr. Seman. A new course was also offered that physically conditioned students through water exercises. Taught by Mrs. Sicora, Aqua Dynamics, proved to be a good class to take.

Even though the majority of gym classes were smaller this year than ever before, they were led by a strong field of teachers. Besides Mr. Bailo, Mr. Seman and Mrs. Sicora, the remaining Physical Education staff included Miss Guillaume and Mr. Niedzwiecki. The gym teachers have done some wonderful things to make physical education more fun.

skills are taught here

NEOVEC provided skills in many areas for students who wanted to possess a saleable skill in something upon graduation from high school. Some of the areas of skills were cosmetology, auto mechanics, food services, heating and air-conditioning, child care, and many more.

NEOVEC could also provide practical experience for students, even though they didn't plan to go to work upon graduation. Many students who attended NEOVEC go on to college.

Students usually talked over their ideas along these lines with their high school counselor. NEOVEC had many different programs to suit students needs.

The main goal of the vocational adjustment program was to teach it's students survival skills and train them for jobs.

This year's classes included career education, consumer math, and the basic academics. Juniors could attend NEOVEC where they learned a skill of their own choice. A student involved in Work Study must have worked on a job for four months before he could graduate.

Fifteen students were involved this year. They went on field trips such as bowling and visiting various places of employment. They were also involved in the Special Olympics in the spring.

workers to gain pride for adams

The Work Study program was very successful this year at Adams. It was headed by Mr. Summerhays and designed to give students who are potential dropouts the opportunity to hold jobs while attending school.

Thirty one students attended the program this year. They spent four hours in class every morning studying Math, Social Studies, English, and Phys. Ed. Seniors took Government too. They held part time jobs the rest of the day.

Work Study, also known as alternative education, tries to meet the needs of those students who would rather work than go to classes.

Mr. Summerhays and the staff of Adams have worked hard to make this a successful plan for all involved.

confusion at its best

The procedures for registering this year was different from past years. Both the gym and the cafeteria were used in an effort to reduce lengthy lines and unneeded confusion. Also, scheduling for the entire school was accomplished in one day. This was done by reducing the amount of time for scheduling down to twenty minutes. This time limit was impossible to observe, and most of the day students could be seen sitting on every available inch of space to rearrange their schedule, get their cards in order and rewrite the final schedule onto locator cards.

The guidance of the administration, the counselors and the teachers were a big help for many students, but patience and perseverance helped the most this year. Our scheduling procedure was confusing, but it worked.

For many students a dance at the end of a school-week was welcomed. as well as enjoyed. The good sound from the bands that played. and the good company which was always present made it easy to get down'.

The dance rules of past years were in effect again this year. Tickets were sold up to a half an hour after the dance started for students who came late. This year a coat rack was provided. which was greatly appreciated by all.

The informal dances gave each class or organization a chance to raise money for their treasuries and they had a good time. too.

'79 played fine, but '78 is still great

"When can I play?"

The annual B.G. Bowl game between the Senior and Junior girls was one of the more exciting activities of the '77 Homecoming events. Although the Seniors lost, 16-14, the game was still a thrill-packed battle for the spectators and for all involved.

Head coaches for the seniors were Dave Wattles and Pat Conley, who did an outstanding job in preparing the girls for a trying battle against the juniors. Steve O'Donnell and Shane Gerke, the head coaches for the 79ers, conditioned the team for an all-out attack against the 78ers. Theresa Bechard quarter-backed for the juniors and did an excellent job manuevering the team through Cindy Rybarz's "Crunch Bunch."

The loss was an upset for the Seniors, but everyone had a good time. Remember girls, "'79 played fine, but '78 is still great!"

homecoming '77 . . .

This year, it was impossible not to notice Homecoming. Many activities celebrated this annual event. They all started Homecoming Week, otherwise known as "Spirit-Week." On Monday, students dressed in their class colors. It was also the day of the B.G. Bowl game. Although the Juniors won, the Seniors showed how to play the game while keeping the fun in it. The Jazz Band played in the cafeteria during lunch on Tuesday. Wednesday was cartoon dress-up day. Scott Cleaveland, as Charlie Brown, won the contest for the best costume. On Thursday, cartoons were shown during the lunch hours in the cafeteria. There were also contests held during lunch, such as pie-eating, picnic-basket eating, and spinach-eating. That afternoon was the Homecoming assembly. The Junior's skit won first place. The sophomores were then announced as the winners of the "Spirit-Week", after they accumulated the most points.

Friday was "Brown and Gold" Day. On Saturday, our football team was defeated by Bloomfield Hills Lahser. During half-time ceremonies, Jackie Beckers and Kelly Rigney were crowned as Homecoming Queen and King. The Senior's float took first place. Later, the annual Homecoming Dance was held. The band "Westwood", made the dance a success. This was truly a memorable Homecoming.

assemblies at their best

The assemblies of '77-78 proved to be exciting entertainment for those who attended them.

Among this year's assemblies included one celebrating our homecoming week, a Christmas assembly with all the packages, numerous pep assemblies, and assemblies starring our own vocal music department. Special interest assemblies included a hypnotist with "special" performances by twenty Seniors. Students also spent an entertaining hour with "Earth Opera", a band from St. Petersburg, Florida.

visitors discover a new world

There were five foreign exchange students this year. They were: Geert DePeuter from Belgium; Lars Heubler from Denmark; Anders Leth from Sweden; Alejandro Pino from Columbia and Tuija Toikka from Finland.

For them to become foreign exchange students they had to have a 3.0 grade point average. They also had to know two to three different languages.

The exchange students were involved in many of the activities here at Adams. Geert DePeuter was in soccer club, Alejandro was in Spanish club, Tuija was on the girls swim team, Highlander Lassies and the Varsity Volleyball team.

The foreign exchange students got homesick just like anybody who was away from home for a year. Other than that the learning experience was interesting, valuable and will be remembered by these students for years to come.

The Thespian Society presented two plays this year. The first was Woody Allen's zany comedy "Don't Drink the Water". It was preceded by a delicious Dessert Buffet prepared by the German Club. The story centered around the Hollanders, an American family vacationing in a Communist country. They are accused of spying, and take refuge in the U.S. Embassy, which they eventually drove crazy. Mr. Hollander was portrayed by Rob Jones, Kim Werkman was his hilarious wife, and their romantic daughter was Kathy Shuert.

The second play was a drama called "Anne of the Thousand Days" by Maxwell Anderson. The play was a historical account of King Henry VIII, performed nobly by Stewart Harris, and his courtship, marriage and eventual execution of Anne Boleyn, portrayed by Teri Walsh. The cast and the crew of both plays did an excellent job, and together with Director Miss Gibson and Producer Mr. Lentz, both plays were a big success.

"I've got to be me . . ."

This year's musical depicted a girl with a dream of riches who matures enough to realize that happiness is more important than money. On April 20, 21, and 22 Meredith Willson's "The Unsinkable Molly Brown" appeared at the Rochester High School Auditorium. It starred Stacy White as Molly and Stewart Harris as Johnny Brown, the man who Molly loved so much that she changed her morals from love of money to love of life.

Certain teachers helped the Choir members in the production of the musical. Vocal direction was given by Mr. Irish, Mr. Simmons rehearsed with the pit orchestra, and Mrs. Montgomery provided dramatical instruction. Mrs. Sicora and Mrs. Craven were in charge of choreography.

When all of this experience combined with the natural talent among the choir members, it produced one of the best musicals in Adams history. Everyone involved with this year's musical deserves a "Tony Award".

the stories of the year . . .

The past year has been very eventful. 1977 has brought about many things. We saw the deaths of Bing Crosby, Guy Lombardo, Elvis Presley, Groucho Marx, Hubert Humphrey, and Charlie Chaplin that saddened the nation.

In the world of sports we saw the first jockey to make 5 million, 17 year old Steve Cauthen. We also watched Leon Spinks beat out Muhammed Ali for the heavyweight title. The Cowboys won the Superbowl, and the Yankees won the Pennant, with Reggie Jackson hitting 3 homeruns in the final game.

Politics also has its share of controversy. Bert Lance lost his job as Budget Director, Anita Bryant crusaded against gay rights, and the president's brother came out with his own brand of beer. The Middle East issue was also very big. Anwar Sadat and Israeli leaders talked of peace.

In the entertainment world there were many overnight successes. In the movies we enjoyed "Rocky", and the growing popularity of sci-fi films, with "Star Wars", and "Close Encounters of the Third Kind" heading the list. Comedy also kept us laughing with the new show "Three's Company", and Steve Martin's "Excuuuuse Me!". In music, we rocked to the tunes of the Bee Gees, and Peter Frampton.

In other events we helped the Queen celebrate her 25th anniversary, and we were hit by another paralyzing blizzard.

"None of my oranges are gay!"

"He may be the greatest, but I'm the best!"

hard work led to success

The success of this year's Student Council was due to the hard work and effort of each member. The Council's main objective this past year was to incorporate better communication between the administration and the students. This was achieved in part by the new Representative to the School Board position established this year and held by senior Betsy Spencer. Student Council officers included Pat Twomey, President; Barb Johannessen, Vice President; Tom Johnson, Treasurer; Mary Jane Natale, Recording Secretary; and Carol Strayer, Corresponding Secretary.

Though many people didn't know it, it was the Council that provided us with the many activities that broke up the classroom routine. They were responsible for the Homecoming, Christmas and hypnotist assemblies and organized the Earth Opera concert, the annual talent show and the Red Cross blood drive. Our second annual Muscular Dystrophy Dance Marathon was a big success too.

Besides providing us with some occasional entertainment, this dedicated group continued to improve various school policies and procedures with the help of their advisor Mrs. Lintz. Overall, our Student Council did another fine job and helped to make our long months at Adams seem to go by a little more quickly.

the stars are born

This year's Astronomy and Physics club worked extremely hard to raise money to go to Toronto. To afford the trip to Canada they had sales which included popcorn sales, T-shirt sales, and calculator sales.

The students went to Oakland for math card games also.

The sponsor was Mr. Gibson who, with help from president Lisa Stasak and treasurer Heidi Quitmeyer, always had the group doing something. They met on Mondays and usually met from a half hour to two hours.

The students involved clearly learned a great deal from these clubs. The experiences enabled those interested to become better prepared for a college major in science.

my book, yer' book

The 1977-78 Yearbook Staff worked hard to put together another fine yearbook.

Under the watchful eyes of Mr. Berube, the staff accomplished many things. For two years the students missed the captions under every picture. That was changed this year with the unanimous decision of Editor-in-Chief Shelly Kamrath, Layout editor Terri Stevens, and Literary editor Mary Johnston, as well as the rest of the class.

Another change was the addition of forty pages to the traditional 220 page book. Although this raised the cost, we felt that it was to your advantage.

Business editor Lynn Huzzard, Photography editor John Boot, and Sectional editors Kim Fleming and Alyssa Gaggino, also worked hard throughout the year. We hoped that the book has brought back memories for all to cherish.

The school newspaper, "Under the Kilt", upheld its reputation of being informative and interesting for the ninth consecutive year.

Mrs. Mastovich sponsored the twenty-three students. Tom Johnson took on the responsibility of being Editor-in-Chief and did a fine job. News editor Carol Strayer, Feature editor Ann Glaser, Editorial editor Lisa Marcoff, and This and That editor Sue Miertl, put a lot of time and effort into each edition.

Subscriptions were sold in the beginning of the year in order to give the paper a working budget and to let them know exactly how many copies they had to have printed each time. This proved to be a much easier system to work with.

The students had the satisfaction that they put together their own works for the whole student body to enjoy.

keep on writing

This was the second year that we had the Literary Magazine at Adams. They were hard workers and picked topics from scratch and pulled together to form some interesting literature.

This was an after school activity consisting of seven dedicated students. They were Libby Geist, Sue DeMent, Kelly King, Kevin King, Diane Cavallero, Beth Ringle, and Kelly Evans. Mr. Freeman sponsored this club.

Hopefully, in the future, more students will want to write and publish works in the Literary Magazine. As Mr. Freeman said, "It's a creative release."

The Thespian Society was hard at work again this year presenting dramatic productions for all to enjoy.

With Miss Gibson and Mr. Lentz, the students learned the secrets behind the dramatic arts.

The dessert theatre comedy, "Don't Drink the Water", would have made original writer, Woody Allen, proud.

The second production, "Anne of a Thousand Days", was successfully presented in February.

Since the Thespian Society began at Adams in 1975, it has become a popular and active club.

n.h.s. - active people, active club

Do you remember being lurred by the tempting aromas of hot bagels? This was just one of the many projects in which the National Honor Society succeeded in raising money throughout the year to buy pins, cords and other paraphanalia for members of the club.

Mr. Gibson, who sponsored the N.H.S. again this year, was assisted by President Tim Shroder; Vice President Heidi Whitfield; Secretary Terri Pedrotty; and Treasurer Anne McGarry.

A large number of students were admitted into the N.H.S. despite the stiff qualifications. Sophomores had to have a 3.5 GPA while Juniors and Seniors needed a 3.0 GPA. But students were not accepted entirely on their academic excellence alone. They also had to have taken part in school activities such as sports, plays, other clubs, and student government. To some, it was an "honor" to be involved in this club.

Am I in charge?"

scholars and rotarians

The National Merit Scholarship Program consisted of students who received exceptionally high scores on the PSAT/NMSQT test. The students who qualified represented one half of one percent of all students in their state.

Adams had seven qualified semifinalists that competed for the Merit Scholarships this year. Seven other Commended students scored high but did not qualify. These kids deserve special recognition.

The Rotary Club consisted of students from the school who have been invited by the businessmen of the community to join them at the rotary luncheons. These students are selected according to citizenship and good character.

The Spanish Club had two main purposes this year. One of which was to promote the culture of the Spanish speaking nations in the community. The Club also had to raise money for their foster child in Mexico. They raised money through such projects as ice-cream sales, a Spanish Dinner that was served to the public and stationery sales.

The Club participated in many non-money making projects too. For Homecoming they made a float which won first place. The name of their float was "Speedy Go Adams" and near the end of the year the Club participated in the Language Day Competition held at Oakland University. Out of the three categories they were in, they won two first places and one second place.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Nash, the sponsor, the club met this year only when there was something important to discuss. Overall, the Club had a very productive year.

The French Club got together every Tuesday to raise money for scholarships that were given to outstanding Seniors.

Some of the activities the club had to raise money in, were; apple picking, their annual fashion show, and the French dinner. The club also took part in activities that did not raise money. They made a float for homecoming which won them a third place. At Christmas time they went caroling. They also had their end-of-the-year picnic for all the french club members.

The officers this year were; Patty Arscott-president, Libby Geist-vice-president, Anne McGarry-secretary, and Mary Johnston-treasurer.

The French Club was definitely an active and worthwhile activity for many people.

Mrs. Snow sponsored the German Club again, and Stewart Harris aided as president. This year the German club participated in folk dancing competition at Oakland University, and at Central Michigan University. The German Club was also involved in the dessert theater in conjunction with the Thespian Society. The German club also took part in the annual "Maifest."

Other officers of the German Club were, Steve Christman as vice president, Karla Rosenbusch as secretary, and Pete Hagenbuch as treasurer.

Deca stands for "Distributive Education Clubs of America", and was a National Organization. Deca promoted "Developing future leaders for marketing and distribution." The Distributive Education Co-op class worked on Deca competitive activities for Regional, State, and National competitions.

Adams has been very successful the past four years, with numerous trophy winners. The past two years, Adams sent three students to National competition in Chicago and Los Angeles. gold dusters - full of spirit

There was a change this year for the Gold Dusters. Instead of performing during halftime at basketball games they were seen at our football games.

The team practiced on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday for two hours each day after school. The sponsor of the Gold Dusters was Mrs. Allison. Captain Cyndi Buchholz, First Lieutenant Theresa Schell and Second Lieutenant Jeanette Meuller helped with the planning of each show that was performed.

The Gold Dusters went to competition at Rochester High and also participated in the national contest, "Miss Halftime U.S.A." in Ohio.

bowlers strike at adams

A new organization was formed this year that had striking success- the Bowling club. Mrs. Harris sponsored the club this year, and saw to it that all the kids participating worked hard and had fun at the same time.

This year's officers were; President Steve Veillette, Secretary Laurie White, and Treasurer Bill Even. These students as well as the remaining competitiors, met every Tuesday after school at the North Hill Lanes.

A bowling tournament was held at Birmingham Bowl on March 14. The top five boys and the top five girls in the club made a good showing there.

The table tennis team was back for their fifth season with plenty of good talent. This was evident in the club's fine performance at this year's MSAA tournament.

The club met on Monday and Wednesday in the cafeteria. They were led by their returning coach, Mr. Treat, and their elected officers. These included President Steve Veillette, Vice President Rob Nani, Secretary Mark Tomboulian and Treasurer Matt Dover. pelés of the future

A sport that grew in popularity at Adams, as well as across the country this year was Soccer. Participation was good as the Soccer Club had nearly thirty regular members. Mr. Pazevic, the sponsor had help from President, Jeff Tomboulian; Vice President, Randy Scherer; Treasurer, Aram Kabodian; and Secretary, Alan Jackson.

The club practiced two and a half hours after school, three days a week. This time was spent drilling old and new fundamentals, and using what was learned by splitting up into two teams and playing a game. They also played well against neighboring schools in non-league scrimmages. It is the hope of Mr. Pazevic, the club members and the administration that in the 1978-79 school year these scrimmages be halted, and Soccer become the next varsity sport at Adams.

This year Highland House wrapped up its sixth successful year with a few changes. The restaurant was totally redecorated. Patti King and Judy Cieslik initiated the whole project. A coat rack was added to the decor; so the customers had a place to hang their coats instead of hanging them on the back of their chairs.

The serving schedule also differed this year. Instead of serving on Tuesdays and Thursdays and having Soup Day on Wednesdays, Soup Day was omitted and they served on all three days.

Besides serving the students and administrators, Highland House also served anyone who wanted a good meal at the reasonable price of ninety cents. The hours they served were from eleven to twelve-thirty.

Mrs. Fisk taught her students good management, how to prepare the food and the importance of serving it in a friendly manner.

Mrs. Fisk sure enjoys her work!

May I help you!

open for business

Many schools don't have their own store, yet Adams did. The Amble Inn is just the place to go if you need school supplies, or if you just want to buy a record. They also sell candy, gum, jerseys, and jackets.

The Amble Inn was sponsored by Mr. Rosenberg, and run by six seniors and two juniors. These students experienced first hand how a store operated. Their customers consisted of the students of Adams. The Amble Inn was open five days a week during the lunch hours.

After Christmas, the Amble Inn was robbed. Much of their merchandise was taken unfortunately, none was recovered.

crazy camp counselors

The sixth grade students from Meadow Brook, University Hills, Baldwin, North Hill, and Long Meadow elementary schools were counseled by selected Adams Students. The kids and camp counselors were full of energy and enthusiasm when they went out to the wild wilderness of Camp Tamarack. Each counselor had five to eight kids to keep track of for the week. Everyone participated in the activities such as ice fishing, map and compass, and nature walks. The highlights of the week were the drop off, square dancing and the team skits. Overall, the counselors and the kids experienced a fun-filled week at camp.

highlander lassies time swimmers to success

Cheerleaders at a swim meet? That may seem a little odd, but the boys' swim team had their own specialized squad, the Highlander Lassies. These girls performed a number of functions such as timing, scoring, hostessing, helping judges, and cheering the swimmers to numerous victories. Besides timing at all the swim meets the Highlander Lassies had other responsibilities. Every morning after the boys came from a rigorous practice the Lassies had breakfast ready and waiting for them to eat.

A lot of time and effort was given by these girls to support the 1977-78 boys swim team. Although they were not publicized, they were deeply appreciated.

The chess club was sponsored again this year by Mr. Treat. He received help from President Hal Jolley, Vice President Kevin Cappo, Treasurer Bob Shankin, Secretary Lori Laney, and Assistant Treasurer Mark Googasian. ski in style!

This year's cross country ski club did not compete, they were more of just a touring team. They plan on being a racing team next year. This year they extended their touring sites to Oakland University.

The instructor of the cross country ski club was Mr. Pazevic, who did a great job. The captain was Alan Jackson, and Bill Brown helped him when needed. They did a good job leading the club activities.

In the future, they hope to do really well when they become a racing team.

run on. . .

Cross Country did well this season as a team. They were ambitious and ready to win with our school backing them all the way. Mr. Gierke, their coach pulled them through a season of an overall four and three record.

Adam's senior Gary Sutherland emerged as a leader on the Cross Country team. He had put much effort in to his running along with the other members of the team.

We must also give recognition to Paul Newton and Steve Viellette who have also been a great addition to the team. Mark Mueller, a junior, and Greg Weist, a sophomore, look like they will be next year's prospects for the team. We must thank every member on the team for investing their time and pride in our school team. Of course, next year's team will do just as well and we hope they keep running on for their goals.

This year the Boys Golf Team did exceptionally well in their regular season and league matches. They were undefeated in their league, and finished off the season by winning the league meet. Their only loss in the regular season was a non-league meet with Brother Rice. However, later in the season they came back for revenge, and beat them at Great Oaks Country Club. The only disappointment of the season was their performance at the regionals, in which they took sixth place and did not qualify for state competition.

The team, coached by Mr. Pasbjerg was headed by six returning varsity lettermen, including captain Bob Klanow and a good job was done by all.

varsity football - oh well. . .

The Varsity football team had a tough year. They had their ups and downs, but always stuck together. Their team spirit was great. If they had lost a game the next time they would try harder.

A large number of injuries affected the team. They had Jim Cupples out for the season with a broken ankle, and Dave Nelson's broken wrist and many more smaller injuries.

The team showed a lot of effort towards every game; they put everything they had into every game. They never gave up.

Without Coach Nedzwiecki the team wouldn't have been as good. He was a great coach in that he always got the team emotionally, and physically ready for each game. When the team went out on the field, Coach Ned's determination was just as strong as the players' themselves.

Even though the record doesn't show it, with the spirit that the 1977 football team had it made them tops.

At season's end, Chris Whitfield was voted to the all league team.

on their way up

This year's Junior Varsity football team had its ups and downs. While the coaches initially felt that the team had some personnel dificiencies, the team started with two straight victories over non-league opponents. Then, injuries to key players and realignment of positions created some major problems. The record for the rest of the season was a mere 1-6. But this doesn't tell the whole story. The team pushed Troy Athens up and down the field, had two touchdowns called back, were penalized at inopportune times and lost 8-0. In the Rochester game Adams dominated the game both physically and statistically but ended up losing (again penalties played the key role) 14-8.

There were some very talented sophomores on this year's team and they were sure to be a big help on the varsity next year.

The Varsity and Junior Varsity Cheerleaders deserved a great amount of credit for their dedication and spirit throughout the year.

For our football season, the senior varsity cheerleaders were Jackie Beckers, Mary Jane Natale, Betsy Spencer, Lisa Marcoff, Linda Brainer, and captain Ann Glaser. Junior members included Lisa Gerber, and Robin Moncrieff. Sophomores Beth Hammerski, Kim Acton, Lynn Cracknell, Annette Duby, Lisa Clissold, Mathilda Brown, Lisa Manzi, and Kerrie Hulbert, formed the J.V. squad. These girls fought the cold to fire-up the crowd.

Through the process of more tryouts and tribulations, sixteen more cheerleaders were chosen for the basketball season. Captain Betsy Spencer and the rest of the Varsity and J.V. squads showed plenty of spirit as they cheered on both the teams and the crowds.

Mrs. Swoyer and Mrs. Long were the sponsors this year.

girls varsity basketball- on top again

This year's Varsity Girl's Basketball team went in fighting and came out winning. The girls suffered through coach Jenny Sicora's tough practices from early August to late November.

The team was held together by Seniors: Linda Ban, Michele Bell, Lin Mondt, Cookie Novitsky, and Terri Pedrotty. All of these girls had been playing for Adams since their sophomore year. They deserved a lot of credit for their hard work and outstanding playing ability throughout the years.

Working hard for the team during the season were Juniors: Sue Danek, Cathy Gay, Annette Gigliotti, Kathy Gordon, Debbi Pedrotty, and Molly Todd. They were always hustling to do the best job possible.

Captains Lin Mondt and Cookie Novitsky had reason to be proud of the varsity team. Coach Sicora had put forth a lot of her time and effort to make the 1977-78 Girl's Varsity Basketball team the best.

The girls won their first two games against Utica Eisenhower and Romeo in the districts. Then they met up with cross-town rival Rochester and solidly beat them for the district title. Adams was proud of the girl's winning efforts.

girls j.v. b-ball numero uno

The '77 Girls J.V. Basketball team had a most outstanding season to have ever hit Adams. These 14 sophomore girls put great pride and determination into every game they played. This faith the girls had, helped them on to a fantastic 16-3 overall record and a 9-1 league record.

Coach Cicciarelli spoke highly of his team, "They never complained and never lost faith. They are the best all around squad I've had."

Center Jo Anne Hopp led her team in highest number of points and rebounds. The entire team won 14 awards for participation as well as J.V. awards.

gymnasts tumble on!

The Adams gymnastic team this year consisted of several dedicated girls who jumped, twisted, and rolled their way through another season. Even though their overall standings, which were 10-2, weren't what they had hoped for, they still had a good team.

We will miss the seniors who were, Karen Brown, Lisa Marcoff, Allison Trevethan, and Sharon Manning. This year's head coach was Mrs. Schiebel who was assisted by Mrs. Kastner, who did a fine job coaching the girls.

The team came in eighth at the District Regionals at Troy Athens. These girls should be commended for their fine performance and their long hard work.

The girls swim team smashed its way into its best season ever. They compiled an impressive 12-1 record. Their only loss came at the hands of MSAA champion Birmingham Groves. The Golden Wave, with captains Lisa Stridde, Patti Aucott, and Pat Arscott, also did very well in their league meet. They were runners-up for the second straight year. The team's performance was sparked by sophomore Kathy Krull, who collected two first places.

The girls owed much of their success to coaches Mrs. Mallon and Ms. Lusk. Not only did "C.B." and Adrienne instruct, they provided moral support as well.

Eight girls travelled to Kalamazoo December third for the state swim meet. The eight included seniors Carol Strayer, Pat Aucott, Kryston Peterson, and Kim Fleming, and sophomores Kathy Krull, Cathy Schmitz, Jenni Aucott, and Kim Fedak.

"life in the fast lane"

"Life in the Fast Lane" was a perfect motto for the 1977-1978 boy's swim team. Swimming isn't a sport for everyone, but the guys showed it was the sport for them. They worked hard, practicing twice a day. They had another successful season too, easily defeating opponents Royal Oak Dondero, and crosstown rival Rochester.

The Golden Wave also showed that they could take more coaching changes and keep on winning. The two new coaches this year were Mr. Dennis Seman and Ms. Adrienne Lusk. Mr. Seman was Assistant Coach at Michigan State.

The boy's swim team was backed by senior co-captains Chuck Hunter and Scott Phillips, and junior co-captain Rick Cozad. Other senior team members included swimmers Dan Cook, and Tim Romano, and diver Bill Bardes.

girls out for a piece of the action!

The girl's volleyball team was at their best again this year. They practiced hard every day to win or at least put up a tough battle.

The girl's varsity team was led by captains Linda Ban and Donna Harris. They also had a new coach this year who was officer Ben Decker. This was his first year as a coach and he seemed to do real well. He coached both Varsity and J.V. The captains for J.V. were Rita Snow and Renee Logsdon. The junior varsity was not set up for spiking but they hustled every team they played. The varsity team had the height and the spikers, they always played tough. Both teams never gave up and always put everything they had into it.

wrestlers prove to be number one

This year's wrestlers started out on top and stayed on top. They finished first in the league, and acquired three league champions: Keith Masters at 112 lbs.; Dave Walsh at 138 lbs.; and Paul Cracknell at 191 lbs. The team set a state record for the most dual meet wins in a season - 24. What really held the team together was the great sportsmanship shown by Coach Bailo. Team captains were Chris Whitfield, Dan Greco, and Dan Wiest. This year's team had five district placers who qualified for regionals. They were: Keith Masters (3rd); Dave Walsh (3rd); Chris Whitfield (2nd); Dan Burgess (3rd); Paul Cracknell (3rd). This year's wrestling team was by far one of the best teams we've ever had at Adams. their side of the mountain

The persistent snow proved to be very profitable for Adams skiers this year. In dual competition, the girls fared very well with an 8-1 record, while the boys followed with a 6-3 record. Divisional standings show the girls as 1st out of 9, and the boys as 4th out of 10. The league meet this year put the girls at 10 out of 12, and the boys as 12 out of 14. Regional competition is the decisive factor upon which 1st and 2nd placements earn a place at the state finals. The results put Adams girls 10th in the entire state of Michigan, separating the girls from the boys, showing the girls as 2nd out of 17 places while qualifying them for the state finals at the same time.

The coach of the ski team for this year was again Mr. Carl Pasbjerg, a math teacher at Adams. Mr. Pasbjerg must regretfully bid adieu to some seniors who have contributed a lot of time and effort to the team. They include: Chris Rosalik, Patty Cotcamp, Shari Cloutier, David Hunstad, and Jay McGee.

varsity basketball - just cruisin' along . . .

Adams' varsity basketball team had a rather unusual season this year. One of the highlights of the season was the game against Rochester. Adams won 57-55, with Dan Kruse scoring 35 points and 20 rebounds. Two disappointments of the season were an overtime loss to Lahser 55-57, and a 3 point loss to Seaholm, 37-40, in the district tournaments.

Dan Kruse was named most valuable player. Unfortunately, Kruse was in an accident in January, and was out for the rest of the season. Kruse led the individual season average with 18.1%. Tim Dillion led in free throw percentage with 80%. Kruse led the season rebound average with 14%. The team's free throws percentage at the end of the season was 67%. They ended the season with an 8-12 record.

This year, Mr. Orchard took over as the varsity coach. At the end of the season he said, "The team members have worked very hard to have a successful year."

Adams had another winning team this year. The coach, Mr. Cicciarelli, said, "It looks like next year's Varsity team will be a tough team to match."

The high scorers for our Junior Varsity team were Lance Devoe and Greg Manning, who both played Forward positions. There were also other great supporters for the team. They were Jim Tesmier, who played Center position, and John Biallas and Dave Cleaver, who played Guards. All the guys, however, were responsible for a great season.

The Highlanders finished with a 7-10 win-loss record to present to their supporting and enthusiastic fans at the end of the season. The team worked long and hard, and deserved a lot of credit for their efforts.

tennis is a smashing success!

Smashing the ball into the opponent's court to win a crucial point wasn't the most difficult part of playing tennis, but it was part of what made the Girl's Tennis team play successfully.

"Hard work" and "determination" were their key words.

Coach Aucott and the team captain, Barb Boghosian, led the ten players to be strong and enthusiastic during each minute of competition.

The single's players were Nancy Golding, Barb Boghosian, Beth Gordon, and Sandy Lawless. The double's players were Kathy Rhoton and Annette Brown, Jean Klees and Tracey Dietz, Karen Jones and Liz Sutherland.

The girls led the 1977 tennis team to a fourth place finish in the league. They also were 1st place in the Regionals for the third consecutive year.

a new love for tennis

As you well know the Boy's tennis team was led this year by a man with great coaching ability, Mr. Jim Taylor. Coach Taylor's previous experience includes: coaching varsity football at Adams, Assistant tennis coach at Adams, teaches at Van Hoosen Jr. High and also plays tennis regularly.

He planned to develop a reputation of having quality tennis players but also having a team dedicated to good sportsmanship. The emphasis was based mostly on teamwork and helping each other through the drills. The goal was to improve each player.

pacing their way

Practice was a daily grind, but success made it all worthwhile. The co-ed method of track seemed the best way to go. Head coach this year was Mr. Bud Cicciarelli.

This year, the track team really got it together having a variety of sophomores, juniors and seniors. All these students worked hard to bring their team to the top.

As the weather got warmer, the practices were moved outdoors. Coach Cicciarelli was pleased with the effort put forth by the team.

The track team had a big turn out this year. The seniors, with all their talent, will be missed next year. With this year's experience the sophomores and juniors will hopefully have another successful season.

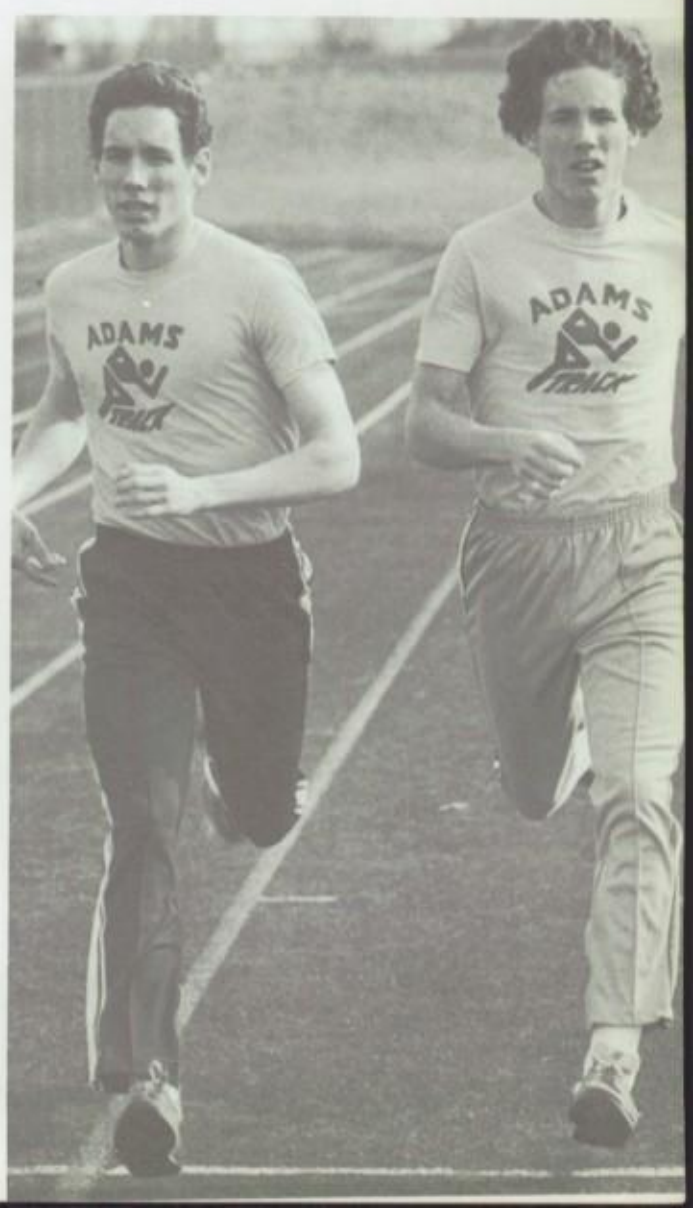
. . . to a successful season



swinging their bats to victory

Led by coach Berube, the softball team was anticipating a good season this year. The team started practicing in February and the season ended in June. The season consisted of twenty games including a twi-night doubleheader.

The varsity team consisted of both juniors and seniors. There were many seniors on the team this year including: Linda Ban, Lin Mondt, Sandy Harbin, Mary Johnston, Donna Harris, Kris Sands, Kathy Stuart, Sue Lenart and Ann Lenart.

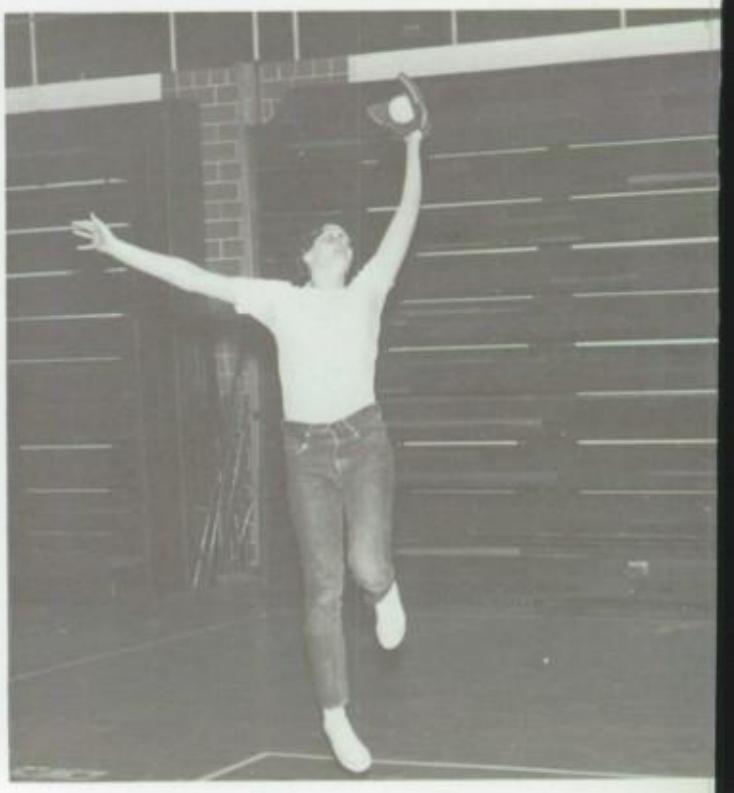
The team also received some new shirts and socks this year to replace the worn ones from years past. Although the end of February sounded early to many for softball to start, it really wasn't when the first game was scheduled for the end of March.

j.v. - first time at bat

This year Adams' softball team was twice as good, because besides varsity softball they had an added junior varsity team. This was new for Adams this year.

The JV team enabled more girls to play ball and at the same time it gave the jv'ers more experience for next year's team. Next year's varsity team should show some added experience due to the new JV team.

Coaching the team this year was Ms. McMillan. She was pleased with the new team and felt it was very worthwhile. All in All it was a good year for the girl's JV softball team.



girl golfers chipping in for success

As spring fever set in, the girl's golf team at Adams brought out their golf clubs, and golf balls. Beginning in March, the girls golf team started practicing for a competitive and promising season.

Mrs. Talley returned to coach the girls golf team again this year after a successful season last year.

They did well this year in the tough competition they were up against. Their long and rough schedule helped them in their league and regional matches.

The seniors that helped out the team were Patti Aucott, Karla Olsen and Lisa Stridde. Next year, the golf team should be just as successful with this year's juniors doing so well.

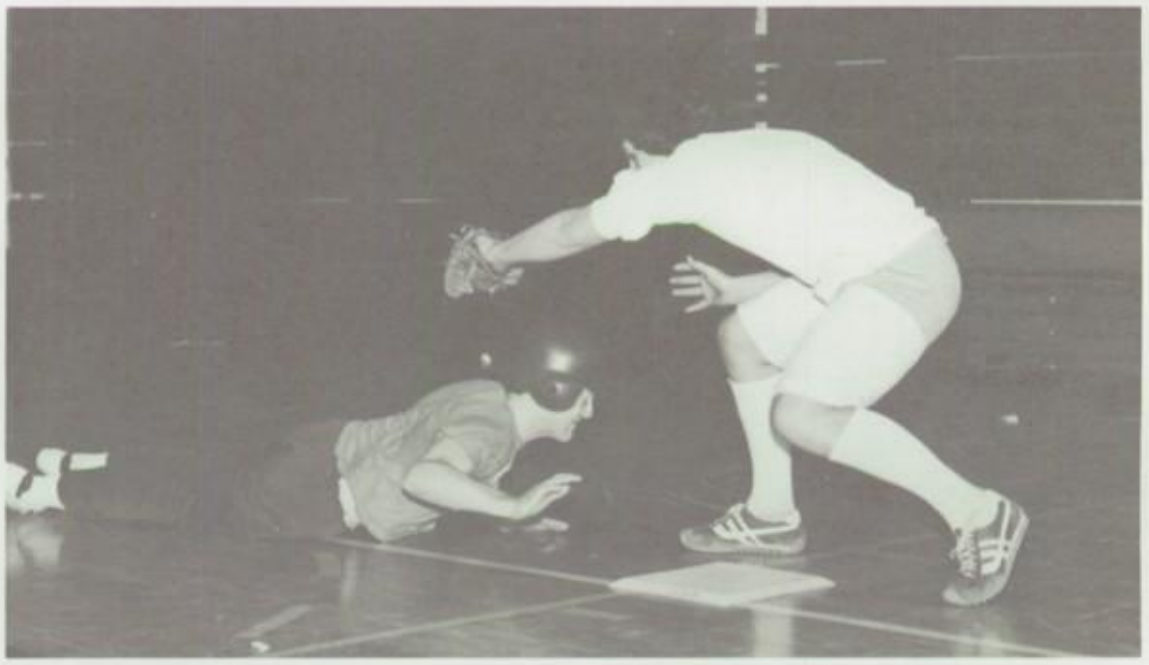
"slipsliding away"

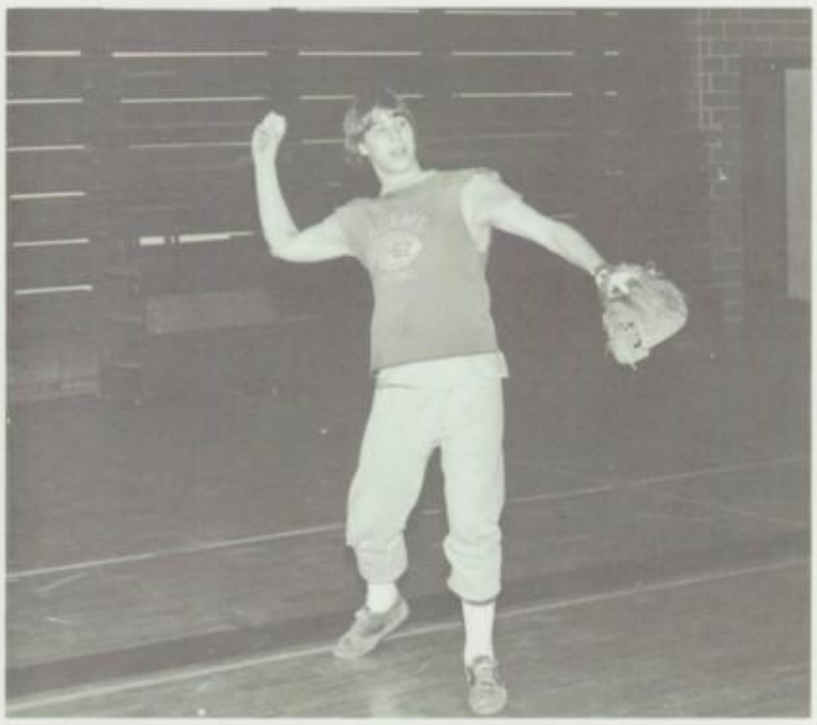
Even though the season didn't officially start until March, the boy's varsity baseball team started practice in January. Mr. Guerrieri coached the team again this year. Jim Cupples and Dave Kleino were the captains for this year's team.

Returning members from last year were Seniors Jim Cupples, Dave Kleino, Keith Kuhn, Bill Pitts, and Paul Kleindl, along with Junior Tom Scally.

The majority of the varsity team was made up of last year's JV team, which ended with a 15-0 record.

Mr. Guerrieri has hopes that his team will make the league and state meets this year. According to him it will depend on three words, the team's "attitude, want, and work". The team is anticipating a good season, which will hopefully end June 10 at the state championships.

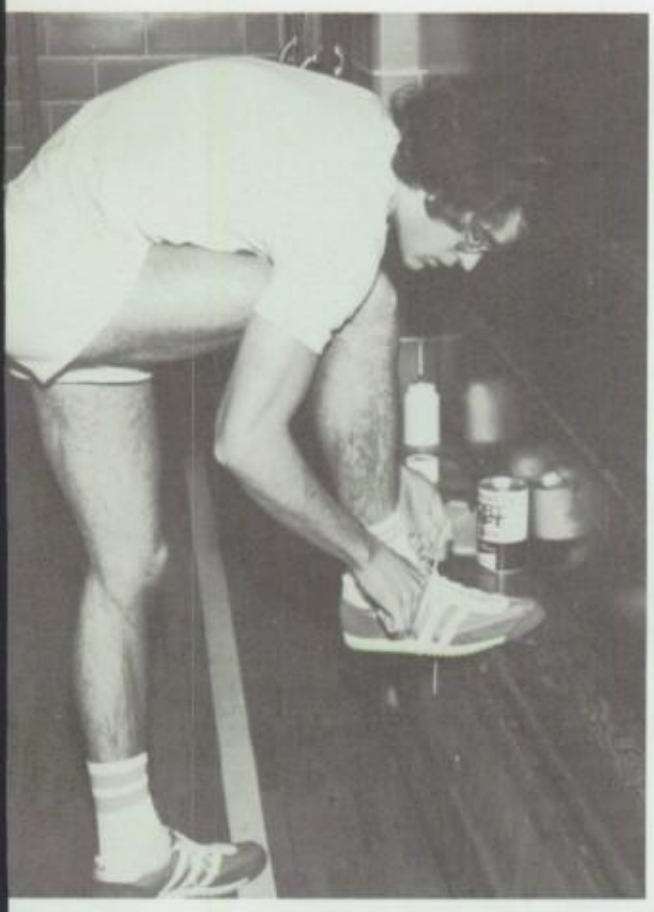




hank aaron - watch out!

Occasionally this spring, you may have looked out into the field and seen the J.V. baseball team hard at work practicing their batting, catching, and fielding. They started practicing indoors at the end of February, and as the weather warmed up, moved outside. Games were held about twice a week and lasted until June.

These talented young athletes had a new coach again this year. He was Mr. Zaleski, who was the athletic director at Reuther Jr. High. Under his direction, the team hoped to be the best J.V. baseball team Adams has ever had. These boys will make valuable additions to next year's Varsity team. Baseball at Adams never had it so good!



getting fit for the future

The Marine Fitness team is not talked about very often among the student body, but its members deserve some recognition for their achievements. They are students interested in developing their bodies to near perfect physical condition through the Marine Fitness Training program.

Under the supervision of Mr. Niedzwiecki, the members endured rigorous training activities, including jogging, sprinting, and various calesthentics in order to reach their goal.

Near the end of the year, the team participated in a district contest with other schools. They were tested by the Marines, and the finalists went on to state and national competitions. This year the Adams team hoped to maintain their good standings in the previous year's competition. Keep up the good work guys!

"looks like we made it"

The class of '78 has finally made it! During their time at Adams they went through millage defeats, which cut out spring sports in 1976. They have seen the opening of the pool, and the beginning of the smoking area for the use of the students. The class of '78 experienced many administrative changes in their three year stay at A.H.S. as well. They also had to make the adjustment to a disciplined attendance policy this year.

The Seniors were involved in many activities. Whether they were trying to raise money for graduation by selling M&M's or sponsoring dances, the '78ers always seemed to put their heart into it.

Led by class sponsor, Mrs. Talley, and the competent class officers, President Rod Poffenberger, Vice President Lisa Marcoff, Secretary Lynn Huzzard, and Treasurer Liz Birley, the Senior class showed much spirit and enthusiasm. The Seniors actively participated during Homecoming, where they took first place for their float.

Being the largest class ever to graduate from Adams, with over 500 Seniors, they excelled both academically and athletically. Two Seniors placed in the top 110 in the state in the Michigan Math Prize competition. Both the Varsity Swim teams and the Varsity Wrestling team finished well in the league.

Seventy students had a chance to take advantage of a Senior trip to the Bahamas where all thoughts of schoolwork melted in the heat of the noonday sun.

Although the Seniors left the hallowed-halls of Adams behind, they took with them memories of good times and friends. The class of '78 went out into the world, each in their own direction, and faced whatever the future had in store.

super seniors, super seniors, super seniors

PATRICK TWOMEY, VALEDICTORIAN

In past years it was customary to find one large picture on this page and maybe a group shot of some seniors who had managed to compile an average of 3.5 or better. This year, obviously, things were different. The yearbook staff was informed that this year would mark a new era in that the school had decided to recognize not only the top grade point average senior but also that person who had the second highest average.

Well, the selection of the valedictorian was not too difficult. Patrick Twomey had managed to compile the highest grade point average. Not only had Pat been a superior worker in the academic areas but he also was a tireless worker on projects initiated by the student council. As its president, Pat worked for many long hours outside of school to make sure that everything went according to plan. Pat had plans to put all of his talents to work as he hoped to begin studies for the priesthood after graduation.

The selection of the Salutatorian was much more difficult. There were three students whose grade point averages were so close (within thousandths of a point) to each other that it was felt that the only fair thing to do was to make all three co-salutatorians.

On behalf of the Adams student body and staff, congratulations to these four super seniors.

two down, one to go . . .

Through thick and thin, the Juniors proved that they were a class not to be underestimated.

The proud class of '79 left a lasting impression when they defeated the Seniors in the annual Brown and Gold Bowl and the Homecoming skit.

Academically, most Juniors met the challenges of three required quarters of American History and the P.S.A.T. test and came out on top.

Athletically inclinded students were able to compete on the varsity level with the Seniors for the first time this year.

The class was led by President Greg Benson, Vice President Judy Bishop, Secretary Julie Robertson, and Treasurer Mitch Aiello. These people put forth a strong effort to make their Junior year successful and one to remember. The Junior class was sponsored by Mrs. Mastovich who has high hopes for the future graduates.

Though the '79ers tasted defeat as well as victory, they never seemed to lose their spirit and pride. For 1979's future graduates, next year will prove to be a meaningful one for they will face decisions that may decide their future.

"A Little While"

A little while when I am gone

As spun foam lifted and borne on
  After the wave is lost in the full sea.

Sara Teasdale

class of '80 get first taste of high school

The Sophomore class of 1980 settled into life at Adams with ease. They took their change of scenery and pace all in stride and made themselves right at home.

The Sophs first Homecoming Week was a big success. They took first place in the spirit yell proving that sophomore guy's voices have changed already. Other firsts for the Sophs included the eating contest and Cartoon Dress Up Day. Their skit took second place and their float came in third. All together this made for a landslide win for the Sophomores who ran away with first place in Spirit Week.

This year Sophomore Student Council positions were held by President Kevin O'Connor, Vice President Dan Hickey, Secretary Matilda Brown and Treasurer Laura Korte. They worked diligently on such things as class activities and unification. Mrs. O'Connor, their class sponsor, helped them out whenever they had any problems.

New graduating requirements were put into effect this year and are as follows: three english credits and one credit each of applied art, industrial art, social science, natural science and math. However, the class of '80 should have no trouble meeting these demands if they continue to be the energetic class they were this year.

Hello Tracy —
I'm Small!
Through all of your troubles
and misfortunes (you know who) your still the same Trixy, after all this year.
When I mean
the same I mean
"Wild and crazy"!
You'll all ways be
my "E" Flat!
"We had some fun didn't we",
at 7:00 in the morning — someone reading this might take that wrong —
Booga, Booga — Cheap Thrill. Come to think of it your a french Buddy — that could be taken wrong too. Rock and roll with E.L.O. should be rather
cosmic — YES!
I cant wait. Good luck driving, and dont hit any trash cans — remember? Whatever you do never forget,
LINDA RONDSTADT,
MARTIN MULL,
AND ROSAN, ROSANA,
DANA.....
"I though I was goana die."
your friend always

TRACY,
BEST OF LUCK THIS YEAR & NEXT SUMMER.
WORK HARD TOWARDS YOUR GOALS AND MAY REALIZE THEM
— S. LEE HARRIS

Dear Theresa:
well, here I go again. Another occasion which calls for a starcyed sentimental message. We've been through a lot together, and I'm happy to say we've both made it, safe and sound. (well, almost, anyways) If you're ever really down, just remember:
"THE HILLS ARE ALIVE, WITH THE SOUND OF MUSIC!..."
All my love,
